A Little about me...

Hello! My name is Mallory Tromza. I attended college at Texas A&M University-Texarkana where I majored in Interdisciplinary Studies.

In my spare time I love to paint, hike, bake, and spend time with my husband and daughter.

This will be my ninth year in education and my eighth year teaching 3rd grade math. I am super excited about this year and I can't wait to watch my students learn and grow!
